BEAUTIFUL LAKE COCHICHEWICK

Years ago a Famous Resort of the Historic Red Men.

There are few regions in New England which the wild legends and traditions of the fast-vanishing race of red men have not invested with a peculiar charm. The poetic legends of Whittier have made famous the White Hills of New Hampshire, and the lake region of that state as well, but there are many other localities, equally worthy, which are still unsung, and the legends which remain to remind us of aboriginal days are fast vanishing into forgetfulness.

Such a region is that in the immediate neighborhood of Lake Cochichewick, in North Andover, where, hundreds of years ago, the noble race of red men builded their graceful wigwams and lighted their council fires. There they watched the golden maize ripen in the fertile meadows under the influence of the September sun, and pursued the bounding deer through the dense forests. Lake Cochichewick was then, as now, one of the most beautiful sheets of water in all this region, and its waters were as clear and cool as a shower of pearls. The same conditions exist now. No polluted streams flow into it, but it is fed by springs in the bottom of the lake, which make its waters absolutely pure, and always cold and clear. Its shores are covered with small, smooth pebbles, and upon adjacent hillsides forests of oak and evergreen still remain.

At the lower end of the lake three large ice houses have been erected, from which ice from this clear body of water. Six thousand tons have been hauled here by EDWARD ADAMS, who is prepared to furnish ice of absolute purity to his customers. It is vastly different from the ordinary ice sold in New England, and it can be obtained by leaving your order at the store of

VALPEY BROTHERS, Andover.

Strictly Pure Ice!

Citizens of Andover desiring a strictly pure article of ice should see that their supply comes from Ponds pond. As pure a sheet of water as there is in Massachusetts, surrounded by hill and wood. Fed entirely by springs, there is no chance for impurities, not even locomotive cinders. It is of as much historic interest as her larger sister in connection with the Red Men or the Black, and is not behind in sentimentality, and it is ahead in purity.

I secured two thousand tons of ice from its surface the past winter, and am prepared to furnish persons with it at reasonable rates in quantities to suit. Orders left with REA & ABBOTT will receive prompt attention.

The Democratic voters will hold their Caucus to elect delegates to the several Conventions, next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Town Hall. A large attendance is desired.

The Andover Woman Suffrage Club will hold a parlor meeting at the house of its president, Dr. Sanborn, this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock. All persons interested in this cause, whether members of the club or not, are cordially invited to be present.

The farmers will hope for pleasant weather next Tuesday and Wednesday, the occasion of the 69th annual exhibition of the Essex Agricultural Society at Beverly. Special tickets on the Boston & Maine will be at reduced rates, good for Sept. 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Hon. Dexter Richards, of Newport, N.H., has given $2500 to the Ludlow, Vt., Academy. Mr. Richards is the father of Mrs. Prof. Gile of this town.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward has been writing a story whose scenes are laid in the time of Christ. Her husband assisted her. She is also writing a story of the time of Daniel.

Real estate agent Bean has sold the Hardy property in Frye Village, which has been used for the past few years as a summer residence by L. H. Bosworth of Lawrence, to George Mander.

Last Saturday a picked nine from West Parish played a game of ball with the Tewksbury Centres, the former being victorious to the tune of 14 to 10. The batteries were A. Boutwell and Cutler for Andover, and Cosgrove and McNabb for Tewksbury. The features of the game were the stick-work of Andover's team and the strike outs of their opponents.

James Sweeney, son of John Sweeney, died of typhoid pneumonia, Monday, after an illness of about three weeks. He was a quiet, honest, and hard working young man, and was 27 years old. The funeral Wednesday morning at St. Augustine's church, was largely attended. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

The Andover Brass Band held its annual meeting Wednesday night, President Chase in the chair. Officers were elected as follows: O. P. Chase, president; Geo. S. Holderness, secretary, treasurer and agent; C. H. Newton, leader; H. F. Chase, property man; Geo. Morse, janitor; Robert Jamieson, Andrew McTernan and Geo. T. Abbott, standing committee.

The base-ball game between the Lawrence Canoe Club and Niotus did not occur last Saturday afternoon, owing to the wet condition of the grounds. To-morrow afternoon Niotus will play the Phillips Academy nine on the Railroad Street grounds.

Last evening Nehemiah W. Smith, an employee of Hardy and Cole, was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Stiles, daughter of Mrs. L. J. Upton. The ceremony was performed at Mr. Smith's home, on Maple Ave., by Rev. G. M. Woodwell. The new couple will have the best wishes of their many friends.

Claude Wells, a new student at Phillips, broke his left arm near the elbow, Wednesday afternoon, at the Gymnasium. He was in the act of bowling, and slipped, striking on his elbow.

Rev. E. G. Lancaster, of last year's senior class at the Seminary, was installed pastor of the Congregational church at Ashby-Prof. Hincks and Dr. Bancroft assisted at the exercises, the former giving the charge to the pastor, and the latter to the people.

Two loads of water pipe arrived this week in Boston having been delayed by the recent storms.

A novel excursion party left Boston, Monday for a journey to Washington. It was the grocer's excursion and included people from all over New England. Andover was represented by J. F. Baldwin and Mrs. H. Knowles. They return to-day.

Personal.

Mrs. Abbott Irving and children are spending a few weeks with friends in Canada, her former home.

C. McDonald of San Francisco is visiting at Benjamin Brown's.

Robert Means, a former resident, was in town this week.

Miss Esther E. Ayer of Philadelphia has been a visitor at the home of Benjamin Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, of Groton, Mass., are guests of J. P. Butterfield.

Mrs. Mary E. (Jones) Eeles, of West Medford, is in town visiting friends.

Miss H. E. Giddings has been at Meredith, N.H., for a short time.

Miss Alice Hinton, P. F. S. '89, is a pupil on the piano at the Conservatory of Music in Boston.

Mrs. G. B. Abbott and son, of East Saginaw, Mich., are visiting at John Chandler's.

The summer saunterers are gradually getting back to town. The families of Prof. Harris and Rev. F. H. Johnson returned this week from Bar Harbor.

Miss Helen Hartwell, of Washington, is a guest at the home of S. B. Locke.

Mrs. E. C. Kelley has been attending the fall millinery opening in Boston this week.

Mrs. L. E. Seaver is in New York to obtain the fall fashions in dressmaking.

Miss Alice J. Hamlin, youngest of six daughters of Dr. Cyrus Hamlin who have graduated at Abbot Academy, returns this year as a teacher.

Electric Lights.

To the public in general a week's trial of our new street lighting by electricity has been eminently satisfactory. That the town is far better lighted than before, no one will for a moment doubt. Last evening the town committee on street lighting, J. M. Bean, Felix G. Haynes and Walter S. Donald, accompanied by Mr. J. W. Dickey, superintendent of the lighting, and the writer, made an inspection of the lights. All the streets were visited, and, with the exception of a few places, the territory formerly covered is very well lighted; and that the committee displayed good judgment in placing the lights is a fact, which can easily be proven to others, as it was to the writer, by examination. In several places the trees with their branches interfere greatly with the amount of ground lighted, on some streets the light being completely hidden in one direction; and in most of these places the trees could be easily trimmed without doing any harm to them. Last night was an average dark night, and, with one or two exceptions, no trouble whatever was experienced in driving about the town.

Several places were located, where the committee will endeavor to have lights put and on the following streets it will be done very soon: one more on Phillips, one on the back street from Salem to Main by the old Phillips schoolhouse, one on Harding, and one at the head of Oak Street in Ballardvale. Other places which the committee found needed them most were, Cuba and Mineral Streets, Main Street in the vicinity of M. M. Holt's, and Frye Village road near the Mill-let woods. A visit to the station, which is pronounced one of the best in the state, was made, and everything found working well. Of course more lights could be used at a great advantage, and it is hoped that the present appropriation will in time be increased, but we think that both the Electric Company and the lighting committee deserve credit for the present service.

An Old War Letter.

Many will remember the chapel tent sent out to the "1st Heavy," when stationed at Maryland Heights in 1863, and will be interested in the following extracts from a letter received at the time by one of the ministers from an Andover man, who was at that time Sergeant in Co. H.:

MARYLAND HEIGHTS,
March 15, 1863.

Dear Sir: In behalf of the members of Co. H., I write you a few lines acknowledging the receipt of the Prayer tent sent out to us by the religious societies and inhabitants of our native town. That tent has reached its destination. It has been pitched, and we have arranged it, inside and outside, as well as we could under the circumstances. We have dedicated it as a tent of prayer. Our first meeting in it was a prayer-meeting, and I hope the last one will be the same. It would have done your soul good to have heard the prayers and petitions that were offered up at that meeting.

Half an hour before the time for the exercises to commence, one after another could be seen wending his way towards the tent. By the time the exercises commenced, the tent was full. The first hymn that we sang was:

"We're travelling home to heaven above,
Will you go? Will you go?"

Before we had finished the hymn, the tent was crowded inside, and all around on the outside. Many could not get near enough to hear, and had to go away. Among those present were officers as well as privates. It was a glorious meeting. We held another meeting last Thursday evening. We are to have prayer-meetings Tuesday, Friday, and Sabbath evenings, and a Bible class or a discourse Sabbath afternoon. Since we came on these Heights, we have had divine service but twice, conducted once by Rev. Mr. Hopkin of Cambridge, and last December by Mr. Merrill. But now, thank God, we have a place, where we can meet together and praise our Maker. We thank you for the tent. We should be glad to receive a letter from you to be read at one of our meetings.

SELECTIONS.

Maria Mitchell.

Of this learned and gifted woman, who died recently at Lynn, Mrs. Sarah K. Bolton has written:

Miss Mitchell says, "I was born of only ordinary capacity, but of extraordinary persistency," and herein is the secret of a great life. She did not dabble in French or music or painting and give it up; she went steadily on to success. Did she neglect home duties? Never. She knit stockings a yard long for her father till his death, usually studying while she knit. To those who learn to be industrious early in life, idleness is never enjoyable.

There was another secret of Miss Mitchell's success. She read good books early in life. She says, "We always had books and were bookish people. There was a public library in Nantucket before I was born. It was not a free library, but we always paid the subscription of one dollar per annum, and always read and studied from it. I remember among its works Hannah More's works and Rollins's Ancient History. I remember, too, that Charles Folger, the present Secretary of the Treasury, and I, had both read this latter work through before we were ten years old, though neither of us spoke of it to the other until a later period."

All this study had made Miss Mitchell a superior woman. It was not strange, therefore, that fame should come to her. One autumn night, Oct. 1, 1847, she was gazing through the telescope as usual, when lo! she was startled to perceive an unknown comet. She at once told her father, who wrote to Prof. William C. Bond, director of the Observatory at Cambridge.

The answer showed that Miss Mitchell had indeed made a new discovery. Frederick VI., King of Denmark, had sixteen years before offered a gold medal of the value of twenty ducats to whoever should discover a telescopic comet. That no mistake might be made as to the real discoverer, the condition was made that word be sent at once to the Astronomer-royal of England. This the Mitchells had not done, on account of their isolated position. Hon. Edward Everett, then President of Harvard College, wrote to the American Minister at the Danish court, who in turn presented the evidence to the king. "It would gratify me," said Mr. Mitchell, "that the generous monarch should know that there is a love of science in this, to him, remote corner of the earth."

The medal was at last awarded, and the woman astronomer of Nantucket found herself in the scientific journals and in the press as the discoverer of "Miss Mitchell's Comet." Another had been added to the list of Mary Somervilles and Caroline Herschels.

Jerry and Joe.

The writer was a little bell-boy at the Astor House, New York, in 1857, and the late Judge Jeremiah Sullivan Black, the new Attorney-General of the United States, had arrived. His rooms were thronged with distinguished citizens. The next day there arrived a small-gray-haired old gentleman from the west. He registered as Judge J. Williams, Iowa. For a few moments he looked over the register, and the little boy that was waiting for an order noticed that all at once he gave a start, asked for a card, and wrote on it, 'The Supreme Judge of Iowa presents his compliments to the Attorney-General of the United States.' Taking up a half-sheet of paper, Judge Williams wrote the following:

"O Jerry, dear Jerry, I've found you at last. And memory, burdened with scenes of the past, Returns to old Somerset's mountains of snow, Where you were but Jerry and I was but Joe."

The bell-boy took the card and note and carried them upstairs. In less than three minutes the great dignified Judge Black was coming down the stairs two steps at a time, and the little bell-boy was in close pursuit. The scene in the office of the Astor House will always be remembered by those who were so fortunate as to witness it. Two old schoolmates and law students were together after a separation of some thirty years. The two old men embraced each other, neither of them able to utter a word. Both have passed away, and no better representatives of the American bar that have sprung from humble origin can be found in American history. A well-spent life is full of happy memories. But how many schoolboys there are who never see an honored old age, but whose idle, dissolute, and wasted lives go out before they reach their prime, and leave only memories of shame and sorrow behind.—Exchange.

The Soldier's Top-Rail.

A Maine soldier says that when the boys wanted firewood, down South, they helped themselves to the zigzag fence rails, which were easy of access, and, being dry, blazed up like tinder. A planter in Virginia was once very much annoyed by the disappearance of his fences, and complained to the commanding officer of a body of Maine troops stationed near. The officer considered the matter fully and said: "The boys cannot get along without some dry wood. But I will issue an order allowing them to take only the top rail." The planter thereupon went away satisfied. But as there was always a top rail until the ground was reached, the boys found no fault with the order.—Leicester Journal.

EVERY HOUSEKEEPER SHOULD USE
Glen Mills Breadstuffs.

Among their specialties are
GOLDEN CORN MEAL,

made from the very best pure yellow corn, thoroughly cleansed, ground and bolted by a process peculiar to this mill. It distances all other bolted meals in the market in sweetness and flavor.

ENTIRE WHEAT FLOUR

is made from selected, choice, ripe wheat, the grain first having been thoroughly cleansed, secured and brushed, the woody fibre discarded, the inner brand retained, and the whole reduced to a uniform fineness by a process peculiar to our own mills. Every effort of the mind or movement of the muscle involves the waste of nervous energy and vitality; we must build up our systems by those elements which will replace those wastes. Chemical analysis shows us that waste flour cannot do this, as the best part of the wheat is sacrificed for the sake of the color.

GLEN MILLS ENTIRE WHEAT FLOUR contains all the elements of the wheat, stored there by our Creator for our use.

Those preferring a coarse Graham should use the

Glen Mills True Wheat Meal
the best wheat meal in the market.

GLEN MILLS NEW PROCESS RYE MEAL,

is made from the best quality of White Rye, which before it comes from the mill is thoroughly cleansed from all impurities, so that nothing comes to the reducing mills but plump, sound rye, as clean as washing can make it. One five pound package of our rye meal will convince you of its merits.

WHITE CORN MEAL.
CRACKED WHEAT.
YELLOW HOMINY.
RYE WHEAT.
GRANULATED WHEAT.

Republican Political Preferences.

The caucus of the Republicans on Monday night was the opening of the Fall campaign in Andover. The "opening" was not a particularly live one, and as was suggested on that night, the TOWNSMAN might almost keep the caucus reports standing in type, they need so few changes from year to year. However, some new names will be noticed among the delegates and we will hope that they stand for a certain amount of new life in the Republican party of Andover. The state delegates are pronounced Brackett men and will do their utmost to secure his nomination, but they are also men who can be relied upon as being not so much tied to any candidate as to cast their votes where there is any danger of ill coming to the party which they represent. The only other delegations that are likely to be called upon to choose "one among many" are the Councillor and Senatorial. For the former nomination there are two prominent candidates, Byron Truell of Lawrence, and Charles F. Loring, Esq., of Melrose. Mr. Truell is well known to Andover citizens as a large Dry Goods dealer in Lawrence. He has held numerous offices in Lawrence and this district, and has been a popular candidate. His business ability well qualifies him for the duties of the Governor's Council. Mr. Loring is known to some of our Andover citizens as prominent in Royal Arcanum circles. He is a lawyer in Boston and has a large practice. The Melrose Reporter says of his fitness for the position:

"He is a man of positive opinions, with the ability and strength of character to express them, a ready, fluent and graceful orator, and particularly well versed in legislative matters, and if nominated he will be a valuable acquisition to the public speakers of the party."

Either of these gentlemen will make a fit representative in the Governor's Council, and we understand that the Andover delegation is divided in its choice between them.

There are also two prominent candidates for the Senatorial nomination, Hon. James R. Simpson and Milton B. Townsend, both of Lawrence, and in considering these two names, we cannot help pronouncing strongly in favor of Mr. Simpson for the nomination. He was for several years Mayor of Lawrence, and while he must have necessarily made mistakes that are sure to be used against him in a political canvas, his actions were at all times of the most upright and conscientious character. He stands high in Lawrence business circles as a man of integrity and ability, and would be a most acceptable nominee to the Republican voters of this district.

The Representative fight has not yet started. It is understood that Mr. Manning, the representative two years ago, would like to go again; and Barnet Rogers, the candidate for selectman, who received such an overwhelming defeat at the polls, last Spring, is also named. There is also considerable talk of George H. Poor, Esq., who has served before in the House.

Mr. J. M. Bradley of this town is again prominently mentioned for the Democratic nomination for Senator for this district. Mr. Bradley was a candidate last year but withdrew in the caucus in the interest of harmony. For a long time he has been a Democratic leader in Andover and no man has a stronger hold on Andover Democrats than he. His business life here has made for him many friends, and Republicans and Democrats alike respect his honorable and successful career. He will poll the full strength of his party vote in Andover, and his large acquaintance throughout the district will make him a strong candidate. The Senatorial vote is sure to be a close one.

ANDOVER NEWS.

For other Andover News, see Pages 1 and 8.

The Board of Registrars met again Monday night and completed a revision of the voting list. It was found that since the last March meeting, 48 names have been taken off the list by reason of removal from town, 12 by death, and 9 new names have been added, making a loss of over 50. The board will hold meetings on the following evenings in October: 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30th in Andover, and 14, 28, in Ballardvale.

The contract for heating Abbot Academy has been awarded to the Middlesex Machine Co., of Lowell. A complete system of hot water heating will be introduced, so arranged that steam can be used when necessary. The plumbing contract has also been awarded to Lowell parties, Costello and Co. being the successful bidders.

William T. Wardwell died at Newton Centre, last Sunday. He was a native of this town, and a son of William H. Wardwell, formerly proprietor of the Andover Publishing House and Bookstore.

Several of the stores were lighted by the electric light last evening, and others will be ready soon.

The Peoples' Course.

The people's course committee have completed their arrangements for this year's series of lectures and entertainments, and a very attractive series it is. The following is a complete list of the course:

October 7.—Lecture, "The Boy of To-Day."
Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.
October 14.—Lecture, illustrated by Stereopticon.
Lyander Dickerman.
October 21.—"Stories in Pictures."
Frank Beard.
October 28.—Concert.
The Bernhard-Listeman Club.
November 11.—Lecture, "Snobs and Snobbery."
Col. L. F. Copeland.
December 2.—Lecture.
Rev. Smith Baker.
December 9.—Lecture, illustrated by Stereopticon.
Rev. H. H. Leavitt.
December 16.—Piano Recital.
Edward Baxter Perry.

It will be seen at once that the course is more expensive than ever before, and it is thought that this will meet with general approval. Because of the more expensive attractions it has been found necessary to increase the price of a part of the reserved seat tickets to $1. This change makes a more equitable price for all the seats as it leaves the same row of settees at 50 cents, and makes the others 75 cents and $1, according to location. The seats are to be sold at the Town Hall, Saturday evening, Sept. 28, at 7 o'clock, and a large sale is assured.

A Golden Wedding.

Golden Weddings occur so seldom in any community that a more than passing notice is due when such an event presents itself for editorial comment. A golden anniversary was joyfully celebrated last Friday afternoon at the home of our esteemed fellow-citizens, Deacon and Mrs. Wm. C. Donald. Fifty years ago, Sept. 13, 1839, William C. Donald of Forfar, and Agnes B. Smart of Farnell, Scotland, were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Foote of Brechin. Five years of their married life were spent in the Highlands:

"But still they leukit over the sea,
Where Hail Columbia beckonit' stana."

In 1844 they left the old country, and took up their residence in Andover, bringing with them their two children. Eight of their ten children were born in Andover. The family circle has once been broken, by the death of Jessie, the youngest, at the age of six years.

"But, leal to the hame they quit,
An' leal to the hame they found,
The Scot and Yankee interknit
For aye, but ane f' heart are bound.
In grand content they've onward pressed,
An' seen their bairns grow guld an' bricht,
Whase gratefu' tongues declare them blest,
On this their gowden weddin' nicht."

The Past and the Present were significantly united on this happy day by the beautifully solemn rite of christening the youngest of the grand-children, Alice, the infant daughter of Dr. Geo. M. and Mrs. (Charlotte Donald) Garland, of Boston. The ceremony was impressively performed, according to the usage of the Episcopal church, by a brother of Mrs. Garland, the Rev. E. Winchester Donald, D. D., rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Donald were then presented by their children and sons-in-law, with a comfortable double-seated, family carriage. Other choice gifts from various friends were also bestowed.

At the family dinner, forty-one sat down to tables spread in a tent, pitched upon the lawn. The thirty-eight members of the Donald family were composed of the families of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Donald; Mr. Joseph W. and Mrs. (Fannie Donald) Smith, of Andover; Rev. Geo. A. and Mrs. (Isabella Donald) Jackson, of Swampscott; Rev. Prof. J. W. and Mrs. (Mary Donald) Churchill, of Andover; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Donald, of Boston; Rev. Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Donald; Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Donald, of Andover; and Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Garland. The number was completed by the graceful presence of the fifth daughter, Miss Alice D. Donald. Twenty-one grandchildren, out of the twenty-four that are living, were there to enliven the occasion. The only absent members were the Rev. M. L. and Mrs. (Agnes Donald) Gordon, of Japan, and their three children. Mrs. John Smith, of Andover, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Coburn, of Boston, friends intimately connected with the family, were the special guests of the occasion.

The eldest son, Mr. W. A. Donald, efficiently acted as master of ceremonies, and presented an interesting family history. With a sentiment appropriate to each gentleman present, he called upon his father, brothers, brothers-in-law, and Mr. Coburn, to respond. Mr. Smith read, in response to his toast, some "Gowden Weddin' Rhymes," written in Scottish dialect for the occasion, a few lines of which we have quoted above; and Rev. Mr. Jackson added to his remarks a felicitous original poem, "We are Ten."

"Ten are we,—
Two in spirit true,
But all your blessing seek, and pledge
To you our love anew."

After speaking of the living children, he touchingly adds:

"And one more looks
Not round the world, but down
From where continual jubilee
Is kept, and joys abound.

"Ay, we are ten,
And, following you in faith,
The nine would join at last the one,
The victory over Death."

The delightful scene was brought to a close by the joining of hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne."

A reception was held from four to six o'clock, and many of the old friends and neighbors gladly availed themselves of the invitation to extend their congratulations to the honored and happy bride and groom of fifty years ago. The grandchildren claimed the evening for their own, and filled the time and the tent with merriment. So ended the day, memorable and full of gladness to those who participated in it. And there are hundreds who did not, that heartily share in the spirit of the closing lines of the poem read by Mr. Smith:

"God bless the twain! a ripened pair,
Favored by time's propitious soil;
An' lang may they our homage share
Till kind heaven tak them frae their toil."

Silver Wedding.

While one well-known family has enjoyed a golden wedding, another event of the present week, in Frye Village, was the large gathering of friends, on Monday evening, to celebrate, by congratulations and numerous presents, the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Leitch. As one of the older residents, Mr. Leitch is well known and highly esteemed, together with his excellent wife, in the neighborhood. Besides neighbors and friends in town, a delegation also from Lawrence was present with felicitations on the happy event of sounding the twenty-fifth anniversary of wedded life by this respected couple. Mr. Leitch is the father of our fellow-citizen and chairman of the School Committee, Dr. John A. Leitch; and a son, William, is engaged in business in North Andover; also there are three daughters. Their home was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the large number present, but nevertheless every one enjoyed the occasion greatly, and none appeared happier or more active than the venerable couple for whom the evening's pleasure was provided.

Young people joined with the older in the manifestations of joy, and the evening hours sped swiftly on in social conversation and amusements. As usual on such occasion refreshments were served during the evening, and the appetites whetted by keen enjoyment were amply satisfied. At a seasonable hour the guests began to depart, after extending their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Leitch for a longer continuance of the happy married life and the compliments of the TOWNSMAN and many friends other than those who joined in the festivities of Monday evening are presented to the honored pair. The tokens of esteem and remembrance which were left by friends, were very pretty, and testified to the esteem in which they are held in the community. Among the numerous presents were several gifts of money, amounting in all to about $100; also the following articles: butter dish and knife, two silver vases, dozen silver forks, gold-lined sugar spoon, silver berry spoons, pie knife, two silver desert spoons, two pickle jars, and table cloth.

Republican Caucus.

The Republican Caucus, Monday night, was better attended than usual. The call was read by J. Newton Cole, chairman of the town committee. Geo. H. Poor, Esq. was chosen chairman of the meeting, and J. Newton Cole, secretary. The business of choosing delegates to the several approaching conventions was taken up, and the following committee retired to bring in a list of names: Peter D. Smith, Geo. S. Cole, John W. Bell, Barnett Rogers, Joseph Kintz. They made the following report as the make up of the several delegations:

State: Geo. H. Poor, Peter D. Smith, Barnett Rogers, Chas. H. Shattuck, Jr.
Senatorial: Charles Greene, John L. Smith, John W. Bell, Samuel H. Boutwell.
Councillor: Albert S. Manning, Geo. Buchanan, B. F. Holt, G. A. Higgins.
County: Geo. S. Cole, E. Kendall Jenkins, Jos. T. Lovejoy, Jos. W. Poor, Geo. F. Baker, Lewis T. Hardy, John M. Bean, Alex. Dear.

Acting upon the suggestion of a circular issued by the Republican State Committee, that present town committees serve till Jan. 1, 1890, and that the new committee serve for one year from that date, a motion to that effect was made and carried. The present town committee was chosen for another year, but John W. Bell, J. Newton Cole and Joseph Kintz declined to act longer, leaving Geo. S. Cole and Barnett Rogers of the old committee, the following new members being chosen: Dr. C. H. Shattuck, Jr., Omar P. Chase and G. A. Higgins. Barnett Rogers brought up the question as to whether the town committee should be instructed to call a Republican Caucus, or have a Citizens' Caucus in the spring, and the motion made that they be instructed to call the former, was lost. The State delegates will probably vote solid for Brackett for Governor, although they go uninstructed.

The Andover Y. P. S. C. E. Union will hold its quarterly meeting at the Free church next Thursday evening, Sept. 26, at 7.45 o'clock. A brief address of welcome will be given by the pastor of the Free church, to be followed by papers on subjects relating to Christian Endeavor work. A half-hour will be spent in a social way at the close of the other exercises. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in this work to be present. The subjects of four papers to be read, one from each society are as follows: West church, "How can we promote the welfare of our Union, and make it more helpful?" Free, "Our Associate members"; South, "The Social committee"; Ballardvale, "How can we help our Pastor?"

The new Bank building is being wired for the electric light.

John Conway of Ballardvale was locked up for being drunk last Saturday night by Officer Dugan. During the evening he received a severe pounding, and upon being brought into court Monday, was discharged. Saturday, John Leary was brought before Judge Poor on a charge of drunkenness, and was fined $5 and costs. He was committed to jail, but after a few days paid his fine and was released.

C. B. Mason has moved into his new house on Woburn St.

J. E. Whiting is moving into the house just built by W. G. Goldsmith on Maple Avenue, and H. P. Wright will move Monday, into the house vacated by Mr. Whiting.

Sometime last year Mr. George Coburn of Boston, well known in this town, made a very nice offer to the young scholars in the Free church Sunday school. It was that he would give everyone a present who would commit to memory and recite to their teachers the verses in Luke 6: 20-49. Accordingly on a recent Sabbath, Superintendent J. W. Bell called upon those who had learned the verses to give their names to their teachers, and recite them. It was found that nineteen had them thoroughly committed to memory, and on the following Sabbath Mr. Coburn was at the school session, and with a few appropriate remarks presented each with a handsome Bible.

Miss Charlotte B. Savage died at the home of Jasper Rea on Elm St., Tuesday at the age of 92 years. The deceased was a very estimable lady, and was one of the oldest persons in town, and it is thought there is only one older. She was an aunt to J. E. Whiting, and had lived in this town for some twelve years. Funeral services were held at Mr. Rea's, Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. J. Blair officiating, and the remains were interred in Spring Grove Cemetery.

The Band furnished music for the Columbia Court of Foresters of Lawrence in the parade at Haverhill, yesterday.

A union gospel temperance meeting will be held in the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is the first meeting since the vacation, and there should be a large attendance. They will be found very interesting and profitable.

BALLARDVALE

Miss Sadie Haynes returned from a rustication at Trenton, Me., Wednesday. Mrs. Cook, of Wrentham, returned with her.

C. Northey Marland, of the Treasurer's office, B. & M.R.R., is ill with a fever, but hopes to be able to attend to his duties shortly.

A flock of hens belonging to Postmaster Marland were induced to leave their roost the other evening by the rays of an arc light which is near by, evidently thinking that it was daylight, and they went about scratching as usual in daytime. Mr. Marland hopes to get a double allowance of eggs by keeping them at work nights.

Wm. Galvin, who was injured, as noted last week, by falling from a team, has resumed work.

Mrs. H. S. Neal has gone to Freeport, Me. for a visit, and will stop at Vassalboro' on the way.

H. S. Neal has sold the fine hound which everyone has admired so much, to a Lawrence party.

Mr. H. Beeley has purchased a fine open buggy.

Mr. John Claffin has been kept from his work by illness this week.

Mrs. Thos. Caffrey, of Portland, is at Mr. Owen Caffrey's on River St.

Mr. Arthur Bannister of Newark, N. J. has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Stott, this week.

The affable and genial librarian of Brown University, Dr. R. A. Guild, and his wife passed a pleasant day last Sunday at Elm Farm with their daughter, Mrs. Geo. H. Coffin. Dr. Guild was obliged to return home on Monday on account of the opening of the Fall term, which occurs this week. Mrs. Guild will remain a few weeks at the farm. Dr. Guild graduated from Brown in the class of 1847. He had already officiated as assistant librarian some two or three years, and upon his graduation was at once appointed to the position of librarian which he has since filled with rare ability. His term of service stands unparalleled in this country.

Mr. Albert Poor, Esq., of Boston, was in town last week, visiting his brother, Mr. James C. Poor.

At the Republican Caucus at Stevens Hall, Monday evening, to choose delegates to the State, County, Councillor and Senatorial Convention, the call was read by Hon. N. P. Frye. Mr. Edward W. Greene was chosen chairman, and Mr. Wm. J. Halliday, Jr., clerk. It was decided that, in the choice of delegates to the various conventions, a marking list should be used, and the names thereon receiving the largest number of marks, be declared delegates to that Convention. The result: State Convention, to be held in Boston Sept. 25, Messrs. W. J. Halliday, Jr., Thos. P. Wills, Frank W. Frisbee. County Convention, at Salem, Messrs. Thos. K. Gilman, John N. Meserve, Wm. A. Johnson, Geo. E. Hathorne, Dr. H. M. Whitney. By a unanimous vote, the County delegates are to act as delegates to the Councillor Convention, to be held in Salem immediately after the close of the County Convention. Senatorial Convention at Danvers, Messrs. Walter H. Hayes, Andrew Reeves, James A. Montgomery, Hans Christensen, Thos. P. Wills, Rev. H. H. Leavitt, John Barker, David Kinley. The Republican Town Committee for the ensuing year: Hon. N. P. Frye, Messrs. T. K. Gilman and Geo. E. Hathorne.

While strolling about town, Sunday morning, Officer Gile met a party of seven lively youths near Mr. Poor's farm, who apparently hailed from Lawrence. One of the number carried a shot gun, and the officer recollecting that of late complaints had been entered by residents of the outlying districts, that gaming and other acts of Sabbath breaking had been of frequent occurrence, reported to Chief Rextrow, who with Officer Mizen started in pursuit of the law-breakers. They were found shortly before noon on Mr. Stevens' land near Officer Bodwell's farm; some were engaged in card-playing, while the report of a gun told of another searching for game a short distance away. Officer Bodwell appeared and ordered the men away just as the Chief and his men made a rush and succeeded in capturing four of the party. The "hunter" took to his heels, but after an exciting foot-race was run down by Officer Gile. Two others escaped. Officer Bodwell's vehicles were brought forth, and the solemn procession started for the police station, Lawrence, where they were locked up to await trial the next morning. Bail was subsequently furnished. In police court Monday morning, John McCabe, John Bannan, Owen Gonyer, John Goughen, and Thos. Bowers received a fine of $1 each and one-fifth costs for being present at an illegal game of cards. Goughen, the sportsman, also received an additional fine of $1 and costs, for game-hunting on the Sabbath.

The U.L.F.S.S. of W.L.I.O.O.F. intend to originate a series of pleasant social parties during the approaching season, to be held in Odd Fellows' Hall. They also expect to conduct a sale, some time in October, in the same place.

Private Charles Fernald is quite ill.

The Republican state delegates are rather non-committal, but, desirous of serving those they represent in the best possible way, are quietly awaiting developments in the political arena.

At the meeting of the Knights of Temperance, Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: captain, William Elliott; lieutenant, John Kershaw; ensign, Frederick Carr; secretary, Willard Putnam; treasurer, William Baldwin; color guards, Frank Bixby, Frank McQuestion; senior sentinel, William Hubbard; junior sentinel, Arthur Wrigley.

All resident members of the I.O.O.F. and their wives are invited to participate in the festivities connected with the observance of the 8th anniversary of the institution of Wauwinet Lodge, October 8. The evening's diversion will consist of a varied musical programme, dancing, and a collation will be served in the banquet-hall.

A meeting of the Cricket Club will be held Monday evening at the home of Pres. Thos. Lancaster at 7.30 o'clock. The business of the hour is important, and a large attendance is desired.

The caucus for the nomination of delegates to the various Democratic political conventions was held in Stevens hall, Thursday evening. The call was read by Mr. S. D. Stevens; Mr. Geo. L. Weil was chosen chairman, and Mr. S. D. Stevens secretary. The delegates were chosen by nomination from the floor, and are as follows: State, at Worcester, Oct. 2, Hon. M. T. Stevens, Bradford H. Barden, Hon. John A. Wiley.

County: Messrs. Jeffrey Kelley, W. F. Kelley, Henry R. Smith. Senatorial: Messrs. John Clark, Michael E. Bolton, Bradford H. Barden.

Councillor: Messrs. S. D. Stevens, Geo. L. Weil, Henry R. Smith. Town committee: Messrs. Jeffrey Kelley, John Bolton, Peter Holt, Jr., Nathaniel Stevens, G. Perkins.

On motion of Mr. S. D. Stevens it was voted that the town committee be authorized to fill any vacancy that may occur among the delegates to any of the conventions, or to add more names to those already on the list, should it be found through the State committee that the town was entitled to a larger representation. Voted also that the chairman of the town committee be a member of the district committee.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Sold by all Druggists.

POETRY.

Dr. Holmes at Andover.

We have now two octogenarian poets, John Greenleaf Whittier and Oliver Wendell Holmes, the latter having celebrated his eightieth birthday three weeks ago, Andover has a special interest in Dr. Holmes, because here he came as a school-boy sixty-five years ago last week, boarding at Dr. Murdock's (now Prof. Smyth's). We copy from his poem given at the Phillips Centennial in 1878 the lines which describe his first experience of Andover, together with his felicitous references to prominent Andover men of that time:

My cheek was bare of adolescent down
When first I sought the Academic town:
Slow rolls the coach along the dusty road,
Big with its filial and parental load;
The frequent hills, the lonely woods are past,
The school-boy's chosen home is reached at last.

The morning came; I reached the classic hall;
A clock-face eyed me, staring from the wall;
Beneath its hands a printed line I read:
YOUTH IS LIFE'S SEED-TIME; so the clock-face said:
Some took its counsel, as the sequel showed,
Sowed their wild oats, and reaped as they had sowed.

Yes, fifty years, with all their circling suns,
Behind them all my glance reverted runs;
Where now that time remote, its griefs, its joys,
Where are its grey-haired men, its bright-haired boys?
Where is the patriarch time could hardly tire,
The good old, wrinkled immemorial "squire"?
Where the tough champion, who, with Calvin's sword,
In wordy conflicts battled for the Lord?

Where the grave scholar, lovely, calm, austere,
Whose voice like music charmed the listening ear,
Whose light rekindled, like the morning star
Still shines upon us through the gates ajar?
Where the still, solemn, weary, sad-eyed man,
Whose care-worn face my wandering eyes would scan.

His features wasted in the lingering strife
With the pale foe that saps the student's life?
Where my old friend, the scholar, teacher, saint,
Whose creed, some hinted, showed a speck of taint;
He broached his own opinion, which is not
Lightly to be forgiven or forgot;
Some riddle's point, I scarce remember now,
Homot, perhaps, where they said homo-ou.

Once more to time's old graveyard I return,
And scrape the moss from memory's pictured urn.
Who, in these days when all things go by steam,
Recalls the stage-coach with its four-horse team?
Its sturdy driver, who remembers him?
Or the old landlord, saturnine and grim,
Who left our hill-top for a new abode,
And reared his sign-post farther down the road?
Still in the waters of the dark Shawshine
Do the young bathers splash, and think they're clean?

Is he not here whose breath of holy song
Has raised the downcast eyes of faith so long?
Are they not here—the strangers in your gates,
For whom the wearied ear impatient waits,
The learned heralds of the Prince of Peace?
Such was the gentle friend whose youth unblamed
In years long past our student-benches claimed;
Whose name, illumined on the sacred page,
Lives in the labors of his riper age;
Such he, whose record time's destroying march
Leaves uneffaced on Zion's springing arch;
Not to the scanty phrase of measured song,
Cramped in its fetters, names like these belong;
One ray they lend to gild my slender line—
Their praise I leave to sweeter lips than mine.

OF PUBLIC INTEREST.

Dr. Loring on Farming in Portugal.

The Massachusetts Ploughman publishes a long letter from Dr. Geo. B. Loring, now U. S. Minister to Portugal, written to the New England Agricultural Society and read at the recent New England Fair at Worcester. In the absence of the eloquent Dr. from the meeting over which he has presided so many years, it must have sounded natural to hear a communication from him on his favorite theme. We copy a few interesting paragraphs:

CATTLE.

The pastures of Portugal, except in the Douro district at the north, are poor; and the hay crop is generally light. The food of horses and cattle consists largely of straw. The land is mainly held in large estates, and is managed by tenants who either rent the farms at a fixed price or carry them on shares. Horses, sheep, goats, cattle, swine and donkeys about. The sheep have lost much of their quality as merinos, for which they were formerly distinguished. The cattle are very fine. I have never seen, in any one section, so many admirable oxen as I have seen in and around Lisbon. They are large, measuring often seven feet and three or four inches,—of a uniform dun color, with stately, well-formed limbs, straight bodies, wide hips, and delicate and at the same time firm heads. They work in pairs or singly, and are trained to perfection. They are evidently a breed of the country, carefully preserved, as will be seen in the rules adopted by the managers of the agricultural exhibitions.

Cows.

In Lisbon there are Vaccarias or milk-stores, in which are kept from six to twenty cows, provided with elegantly furnished stalls, and kept perfectly clean, and used to supply fresh milk to customers. The cows and the counters are in the same apartment. They are among the finest specimens of dairy cows I have ever seen, being Holsteins of moderate size and admirable shape, and well-developed grade Jerseys. They are fed on all they can eat of wheat straw, carelessly threshed by treading and coarsely chopped; to which are added, twice a day, about ten quarts of a mixture of large beans soaked and coarse wheat-bran,—three quarts of beans and seven of wheat-bran,—evidently a most nutritious food.

HORSES.

Great care has been taken in breeding horses, and the Government has established sixty-five breeding studs, thirty-one at the north and thirty-four at the south, in which may be found the Thoroughbred, the cross of Arab and Portuguese, the cross of English and Portuguese, the Anglo-Norman, the Cleveland Bay, the Hackney, the Anglo-Arab, the cross of Portuguese and Morocco. They breed especially for the saddle, throughout the kingdom, and sure-footed, elastic, well-made horses for this purpose can be found everywhere.

CATTLE SHOWS.

In 1888 the Department of Agriculture organized a most interesting exhibition in the city of Lisbon. The directors in organizing the show presented with great force the character of the display they desired, and the advantages to be derived from it. They urged the judges to consider carefully the fitness of the various animals for the service required of them and for the demands of the market. Especial attention was called to the breeds of animals already existing in Portugal, which, being accustomed to the climate and food, thrive well and fatten early; and great care in the selection of animals for crossing was urged. Great satisfaction was expressed with the native bulls, while the necessity for using better stallions was strongly laid down. They encouraged Portuguese and not foreign breeds of cattle, therefore, and they especially objected to the introduction of foreign breeds if they tended to weaken the native stock. The premiums offered under these rules were very liberal and significant. For the best stallion, $200; for the best lot of mares, $80; for the best lot of colts, $80; for the best gelding, $200; for the best saddle horse, $100. For the best bull the premium offered was $60; for the best lot of three rams, $18; for the best boar, $20. No premiums were offered for specific breeds.

THE PEOPLE, AND HOW THEY WORK.

The wages of labor, as I have pointed out, are very low; and steady, long-continued toil is the law of life. I have seen laborers going to the field before sunrise on long summer days, and I have seen them returning at twilight in the evening. Their repose they take at midday. I have seen twenty reapers at work in a wheat-field which a reaper and binder would have cut in a few morning hours, and the field was not half reaped towards the close of the forenoon. In it all I saw no recognized personal poverty, nor did I see much wealth or energy or ambition. The people were well clad, and they were evidently well fed, if we may judge by strength and form and muscle. In fact, the Portuguese are a well-made people. The strength of the porters is amazing. The "long-shoremen" are vigorous and strong. The soldiers have sturdy limbs and a great stride. The young men who go forth to their business in Lisbon have athletic frames. The pedestrians in Cintra possess great muscular strength—else the hills would kill them. There is apparently no hurry here. The climate is delightful. The soil is easily cultivated. Summer in different degrees is perpetual. I know one old gentleman who never had a fire in his room, never was out of Portugal, and never travelled on a railroad train.

WHAT PRINCE CARLOS THINKS OF THE AMERICAN HORSE.

Not many days ago I discussed with Don Carlos, the Prince Royal of Portugal, the fine horses he was driving in his carriage at Cintra—horses he had purchased in Paris, and which he considered better than similar horses he had seen elsewhere. During the conversation I spoke of the American horse as combining many good qualities and forces for the road and the track, for strength for the carriage and speed for the wagon. His reply was, "Oh, the American horse stands at the head." Whatever the New England society has done to bring this about stands to its credit.

In this year of great exhibitions,—of the Royal Agricultural Society at Windsor when royalty assembled to witness the agricultural triumphs of the kingdom, and of the French Society at Paris,—I should enjoy my usual stroll among the well-filled stalls and pens, and the ingenious collections at Worcester. But I can only send my good wishes to the society, and my confidence that its future will be as successful and useful as its past has been, not only in stimulating the business of intelligent farming, but in creating a fraternal feeling among the farmers of New England.

Portelectric.

The word portelectric (bearer of electricity) has been given to what promises to be a new and very remarkable system of transportation. This system is in its germinal state, but hidden in this germ are capabilities, many think, as well as possibilities, of such a character as may yet revolutionize our whole system of railroad travel. If it succeeds—and Prof. Dolbear and other great electricians see every reason why it should, and no reason why it should not—it will enable us to send letters from Boston to Chicago in one night, and passengers also at the rate of 100 miles an hour, and with less danger to life than now attends railway travel. . . .

If one has a little time it will pay him well to go into Boston's historic Old South Church, and study this wonderful invention. He will see a track about four feet above the floor, and fifty feet long, which looks like a miniature, single track, elevated railroad. This is merely a working model of the newly invented Portelectric system of rapid transportation. The inventor of this system is a young man from New York State named John T. Williams.

The first thing to attract one's attention is a little car constructed of light steel, with a wheel at each end, which is running through what looks like a long series of small hollow boxes. These boxes are really helices, or coils of wire, boxed to protect them from the weather. Although running but fifty feet, this little car, four feet long and which weighs but fifty-six and a half pounds, is made to run, on an up grade, at the rate of fifteen miles an hour. But Mr. Williams says there would be no difficulty in securing ten times this rate of speed in going longer distances. What makes this little car run so rapidly? The following explanation from the Electrical World is as accurate and explicit as any yet attempted: "The principle of this (Portelectric) system is a very simple one, and consists of the well-known sucking action that a helix or coil exerts on a rod of iron when placed near its centre. Thus, if a bar of iron or steel be placed with one end near the centre of a helix, on passing a current through the latter, the bar will be drawn in and maintained in a central position as long as the current continues. If now the current be broken the bar will again be free to move, and if we imagine a second helix placed in a position similar to that which the first occupied with relation to the bar, then, on the passage of the current through the second coil, the bar will be drawn toward that one and out of the first. With a number of helices arranged side by side, and an arrangement for making and breaking the current at the proper time, it is evident that a bar of iron could be moved continuously in any desired direction. Such, in fact, is the system of Mr. Williams, which he has carried out in practice in a neat manner."

After Portelectric has demonstrated its ability to carry parcels and mail matter with great rapidity and safety, the next step will be to make the helices large enough to carry carriages with human beings in them. What rate of speed may be attained is a mere matter of conjecture, but the inventor is sure that a rate of 300 miles an hour is possible. Whether on account of the great friction it is feasible, time alone must determine. But that we are now at the opening of a new era in travelling seems almost certain. Mr. Williams believes that his invention will render travelling much safer, even though so greatly increasing the rate of speed. This will be due to the fact that the very force which propels the car will also exert a corresponding force to hold it to the track.

The New England Portelectric Company has for its president Gen. John M. Corse, Boston's energetic postmaster. The Hon. Thomas W. Bicknell is secretary and treasurer. While among the directors we find the names of Lieut.-Gov. Littlefield of Rhode Island, and Secretary of State, Hon. Henry B. Pierce. This company is full of energy, and will proceed to make and put into working shape, by Oct. 1st, a mile of track in Dorchester District, Boston, near Mount Bowdoin Station, on the New York and New England Railroad. It will take $15,000 to $20,000 to do this, but the company have plenty of means to push matters. As soon as this mile of track is completed and in successful operation, the building of lines to Providence and New York will immediately follow.

Already the Trustees of the Boston Public Library are discussing the feasibility of the Portelectric system in carrying books back and forth in the great, six-story, new building soon to be occupied by them. There are a multitude of ways in which this system will, if it meets the expectations of electricians, be of incalculable benefit to men.—Frank H. Kasson in The Watchman.

Pursuit of Dewberries under Difficulties.

Some time in June, 1884, while Sherman's army was near Kennesaw and Marietta, Ga., our brigade, commanded by Gen. Harrison, was moved to the right, to a position about three miles from Marietta. The position we were to occupy was partly in an open field, and partly covered by trees and bushes, and sloping toward a hollow or little valley. The enemy occupied a line of works on the opposite wooded hillside. The left of our regiment, (120th Ill.) was sheltered by the bushes, but the right wing, consisting of about half of the regiment, reached out in the open field. As we were bringing rails from the upper edge of the field, we would sometimes stop to pick the kind of blackberries that are called dewberries, which grew there abundantly. The Johnnies, seeing us stop, would improve their opportunity and drop some bullets close by us.

Well, after the breastworks were in pretty good shape, Gen. Harrison ("Kurnul Ben") came along down the line, walked out to the right, past the works and into the open field, and began leisurely to pick the dewberries. Of course the rebels immediately sent their compliments, in the shape of bullets, over that way. In a few minutes the general slowly came back inside the works, holding four large, plump berries in his open hand. Said he: "Each one of these berries cost the rebels a bullet—they dropped in just four bullets while I was picking these four berries."

He seemed to have an utter disregard for rebel bullets that amounted almost to contempt.—Illinois soldier in "Camp-fire" of Toledo Blade.

Difference between Panama and Nicaragua.

The attention that is being given by the Nicaragua Canal Company to preserving the health, and to some extent caring for the morals, of the workmen they have sent to dig their canal is in marked contrast to the policy of the Panama Canal Company. On the Panama Canal the workmen were paid by the month, and allowed to "find themselves." The result was insufficient and improper food, starvation, dissipation, sickness, decreased laboring power, little work, and a terribly long/death-list. The Nicaragua Canal Company, while it pays as high, if not higher, money wages, supplies them in addition with food and lodging, takes charge of sutlers' stores, which it furnishes at cost, and thus reduces the chances of disease and dissipation to the minimum. This is not only humane, but in the highest degree a shrewd business venture, and a movement that in some parts might be profitably inaugurated in the United States as well as in Nicaragua. One of the most deplorable features of modern industrial organization is the abandonment of the relations of mutual good-will and care for the interests of each other that formerly existed between employer and employed.—American Manufacturer.

Tree Puzzle.

We have become much interested in a tree puzzle which we have stumbled across in an old paper, and copy it below. We wish the readers of this column would send in (within two weeks) answers, as far as they may "guess" them. Out of all the answers a complete list might be made. To the one sending the largest number of correct answers we will hand a prize, in the shape of a book, to be selected by the winner. The answers should be numbered to correspond with the questions.

1. What's the social tree,
2. And the dancing tree,
3. And the tree that is nearest the sea?
4. The dandiest tree,
5. And the kissable tree,
6. And the tree where ships may be?
7. What's the tell-tale tree,
8. And the traitor's tree,
9. And the tree that is warmest clad?
10. The languishing tree,
11. The chronologist's tree,
12. And the tree that makes one sad?
13. What's the emulous tree,
14. The industrious tree,
15. And the tree that never will stand still?
16. The unhealthiest tree,
17. The Egyptian plague tree,
18. And the tree neither up nor down hill?
19. The contemptible tree,
20. The most yielding tree,
21. And the tree that bears a curse?
22. The reddish-brown tree,
23. The reddish-blue tree,
24. And the tree like an Irish nurse?
25. What is the tree,
That makes each townsman flee,
26. And what round itself doth entwine?
27. What's the housewife's tree,
28. And the fisherman's tree?
29. What by cockneys is turned into wine?
30. What's the tree that got up,
31. And the tree that was lazy,
32. And the tree that guides ships to go forth?
33. The tree that's immortal,
34. The trees that are not,
35. And the tree whose wood faces the north?
36. The tree in a bottle,
37. The tree in a fog,
38. And what each must become ere he's old?
39. The tree of the people,
40. The traveller's tree,
41. And the sad tree which school-masters hold?
42. What's the tree that has passed through the fiery heat,
43. That half-given to doctors when ill?
44. The tree that we offer to friends when we meet,
45. And the tree we may use as a quill?
46. What's the tree that in death will benight you,
47. And the tree your wants will supply?
48. And the tree that in travel invites you,
49. And the tree that forbids you to die?

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Ballardvale.—Organized 1850. Rev. Edward E. Small, pastor. Morning service, 10; evening, 7. Young People's meeting, 6.15; Tuesday and Friday evenings, 7.30; Supt. of Sunday School, John Howell.

The week beginning with Sunday Sept. 29, will be missionary week and a majority at least, of Massachusetts' pastors will give a missionary discourse on that Sunday, and have some services during the week. Some such services in this town would be very interesting.

At the South church, Rev. J. J. Blair preached in the morning from 1 Thess. 5:22, "Abstain from every form of evil." In the evening, the text was Isa. 61:13.

Rev. Frederic Palmer preached at Christ church, from Ezek. 44:1-2, "The Lord said unto me: This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it; for the Lord, the God of Israel, hath entered by it; therefore it shall be shut." The two opposite ideas of dignity or possession—that which shuts out others, and that which must needs include others.

Rev. Mr. Stratton's text, at the Baptist church, was Matt. 22:42, in the morning. The address in the evening was on "The Gospel Highway."

Rev. C. T. Hawes of Maine was in the Free church pulpit in the morning, and his discourse was on the subject "John the Baptist." At the evening meeting of the Y.P.S.C.E. he also made interesting remarks.

At St. Augustine's church, the customary services were held, Father Ryan officiating.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Greene, the pulpit of the West church was occupied by Prof. Churchill, who selected as his text, Mark 12:41-45—"She hath done what she could."

The Chapel desk was occupied by Prof. Ryder, and his text was Luke 13:23-24.

Prof. J. P. Taylor preached at the High Street church, Lowell, Sunday morning.

Rev. W. A. Evans of last year's advanced class in the Seminary, has received a call to a church in Mason City, Ia.

Mr. George F. Kenngott of the class of '89, Andover Seminary, accepts the unanimous call from the Congregational church and society at Newport, N. H.

H. K. Santikian, a graduate of the Seminary last year, has been supplying the Campton, N. H. church with much acceptance. After one more year of study here he expects to return to his native country.

A vivid idea of the unchurched masses of London is conveyed in Cardinal Manning's declaration:

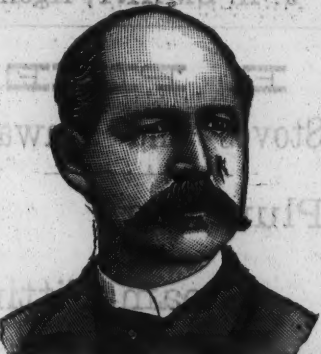

"There are four millions of living and dying and dead souls. And if every church or chapel or place of worship of every sort and kind were filled three times to the full on every Lord's Day, they could not contain more than about 1,500,000. There must be, therefore, 2,500,000 who never can, physically, set their feet in any place of divine worship, or any place where the name and existence of God are recognized."

Minstrels Perform.

Andover has always been acknowledged as a poor "show town," and only a fair audience attended the entertainment Tuesday night by Donnelly and McAvoy's leading minstrels; but the character of the show and everything connected with it was so far from coarseness and so full of pleasure that a return engagement would surely meet with favor and a crowded house. The performance all through was well worth seeing, and could conscientiously be recommended to any class of people. The hearty laughter and the liberal applause of the audience gave proof that all were extremely well satisfied with the whole entertainment. Noticeable bits of the programme were the songs and jokes of Messrs. Donnelly and McAvoy, the violin solos by Prof. Williams, the base-ball tableau clog, and the acrobatic and contortion acts. Tom Donnelly was a whole show in himself, and was well accompanied by his partner, McAvoy. The entertainment concluded with a lively and side-splitting farce, which brought in most of the company. The whole thing is well arranged and deserves all success in its season's engagements.

Abbott Village.

The number of people returning home to Scotland seems to be on the increase. Last Saturday Mrs. Wood and family, Mrs. Hasting and daughter, Misses Eliza Ross, Annie Murray and niece, and Wm. Gow sailed from Boston, on the Cunarder Pavonia, for Liverpool. All but the first named go to Dundee, Scotland.

Mr. David Bruce of Dakota is visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bruce on Mineral St.

James Fraser is sick at his home on Cuba Street.

A fit specimen for the horticultural show in Boston was taken from the garden of Mr. Justin Clark, this week, in the shape of a purple top turnip. The turnips have all been of a good size, but this one beat them all, weighing 13 1-2 pounds.

Miss Maggie W. Scott returned home, Tuesday, from Scotland, where she has been spending the summer.

The Merrimacks of Lawrence and the Andovers will play the return cup game of cricket, on the home grounds, Saturday afternoon, at 2 P. M. sharp. The following will represent Andover: D. F. Bruce (capt.), E. White, A. Saunders, H. Kydd, J. C. Low, J. B. Callum, J. Fryer, J. Porter, G. Christie, W. Greig and T. Wilkie.

The Andovers visited Lowell, Saturday, to play off their return game with the Lowells. Owing to the heavy rain of the forenoon, the Lowells did not expect the visitors, and it was almost three o'clock before a start was made. Lowell won the toss and took the bat, Bruce and Kydd being the bowlers. From the start it was evident that Bruce was not in form, but nevertheless the score of the home team reached only 66 runs when the 11th wicket fell. The teams played 12 a side. The chief batting honors were carried off by Adler and Bland, having 24 and 12 respectively. On Andover going to the bat, the start looked gloomy, 2 wickets being down for a like number of runs. Low, Saunders and White, however, improved matters, and when the last man was given out lb. w. the score had reached 85 runs or only one behind their opponents. But for the very shady decisions of the umpires, the Andovers would have easily won. The score:

Frye Village.

The members of the Cricket Club along with a few of the Andover team had a practice game Monday.

On Tuesday night the arc light in the centre of the village went out about eight o'clock, and its want was greatly felt.

Mr. Joseph Parker from Philadelphia was visiting at Mr. James Morton's, Tuesday, leaving again Wednesday.

The celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Donald, which happened last Friday, will be found in to-day's issue.

Miss Sarah Birnie has been spending a part of her vacation in Wakefield.

Mr. Thomas Bentley and family moved into his new house last Saturday.

Mr. Joseph W. Poor is serving as a juror at the Superior Court now sitting in Lawrence.

Mr. George F. Smith left Tuesday to resume his studies at Yale College.

Owen E. Sullivan and Miss Kate H. Dyer were united in marriage yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. J. Ryan. They entertained their friends in the evening, and were the recipients of many presents.
